Hi Ben!

Thanks for your letter. I didn't answer earlier because I was busy. Now I'm free and ready to answer on your questions!

In my country people don't have the Earth Hour. My town don't go dark for one hour and it is good because I don't like dark at all. People may do many different things to save energy. For example they must turn off the electronics which always stand turn on with no need. Or they need to be more economic with things that takes a large piece of energy at all. From one side I approve the Green Movement because people need to stop having energy in large and they need to pay attention to it. But from the other side I don't really care about this because we have machines who takes energy from the sun, space and ect...

Sorry I have to go now. Write back soon.

Best wishes,

Max
