WRITING

I am going to tell a story about my experience of living in Japan for ten years. In my short story I want to describe all the main problems for teenager to leave in foreign country.

First of all,

In fact, it is barely difficult difficultier for a teenager to live in another country than it is to adult person. It was difficult to me at first time to become adapted to another culture. I was different in all cases: appearance, point of view, mind construction... I didn't ever had a Japanese friend till went to high school. The high school ages were one of the best in my life. To say truth, I hadn't ever got so powerful interest to learn Japanese before graduating a junior high school. The problem also was in my different appearance. I was really embarrassed of how I looked that ages till my Japanese high school friend told me that I am very beautiful and unusual. That changed my mind forever.

In conclusion, I would say that no matter how do you look or what nationality kind of nationality you are, your friends if you really have a great friend who can support anytime you need it, all your mind problems will go away.
